Re: Telephone Notes, The President and [Carl Robard], 11/23/63

The transcript (number 22) is identified by a handwritten note in the corner as a conversation with Governor John Reynolds, Gov. Romney. After the reviewing the tapes, the archives staff concluded that most of the remarks are from a conversation between the President and Carl Robard which occurred later in the day, 11/23/63. See transcript number 27.

Re: Telephone Conversations between the President and others from 4:30 p.m. to 7:40 or 8:10 p.m., 11/23/93

When processing the transcripts, the archives staff arranged and numbered the conversations in the following order:

Transcript 22 [Governor John Reynolds] [time not shown]
Although this is identified in the corner by a handwritten notation, "Governor John Reynolds, Gov. Romney," most of the remarks appear to be taken from a conversation with Carl Robard later in the day. See transcript 27.

Transcript 23 Gov. John Reynolds, 4:30 p.m.

Transcript 24 McGeorge Bundy, 5:52 p.m.

Transcript 25 David Dubinsky, 7:32 p.m.

Transcript 26 Senator Ted Kennedy, 7:40
Although the information filed with the dictabelt indicated that the conversation was at 7:40 p.m., the Diary indicates the conversation took place at 8:10 p.m., and the White House Telephone Operators' Logs indicate that the conversation took place at 8:05 p.m.

Transcript 27 Carl Robard [time not shown]

Transcript 28 Patrick Lucey [time not shown]

All of the conversations were recorded on one IBM dictabelt, and when the archives staff played it, they found that the conversations took place in the following order:

Governor John Reynolds, 4:30 p.m.
Patrick Lucey/Carl Robard [same call], [time not shown]
McGeorge Bundy, 5:52 p.m.
David Dubinsky, 7:32 p.m.
Senator Ted Kennedy, 7:40 [time shown on transcript]

TELEPHONE NOTES
THE PRESIDENT AND

B Mr. President.

A Governor, I am mighty glad to hear you.

B

A Yes Sir, I know. You came to see me when I was sick. I don't forget my friends.

B I want you to know my friend, that we are ready to do anything we can for you and call on me anytime or any occasion.

A Thank you Governor. I want you to take charge and look after things for me.

B I called Jim Cain last night and about midnight and offered to fly him out here today. Jim just couldn't make it. He had had the flu.

A I didn't know that

B They sent their greetings.

A I talked to them last night and gave them my love. Now you look after things for me and anything I need to know there you surely call me.

B I surely will so.

A Thank you.

B Bye.
