MARGARETTE VEA RUBIN, in care of Smith Hall, Dallas, Texas, advised that on Friday night, November 22, 1963, she was at Phil's Delicatessen, 1211 Oak Lawn, Dallas, Texas, in the company of REPA SILVERMAN, a friend, BILL NICHOLS, BENNIE MARTIN and ROB SINDELL, freshman, sophomores at SMU. She advised that they went to Phil's Delicatessen at approximately 10:10 p.m. to have a coke and as they were sitting at their table a man walked up to the table and took their newspapers. The man opened the newspaper, began looking at it and very rudely asked if he might look at their paper to which they replied, "Yes." She advised he looked at the amusement section of the newspaper and immediately went to a telephone located approximately 25 to 30 feet from where they were sitting and dialed a number. She advised none of the group paid any attention, and she could not state whether or not he actually talked on the telephone but that approximately ten minutes later he returned to their table and again asked if he might look at the paper. Miss RUBIN stated permission was again given and he repeated his former action and about ten minutes later returned to the table this time somewhat embarrassed and pointed out to them in the paper advertisements for the Carousel and Vegas Club. He asked them if they knew of those clubs and stated that he was the owner of the clubs. He made conversation concerning some musicians who had played at the clubs and then proceeded to make a third telephone call. She advised that after he finished the third telephone call he returned to the table to talk with one of the boys in the group about musicians who had played at the club. As he left the table he turned to the front page of the paper which was covered with news and photographs concerning the shooting of President KENNEDY and made the remark, "Isn't that a horrible thing." Miss RUBIN advised that on Sunday when the news concerning the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was broadcast on television she immediately recognized the photograph of JACOB RUBIN as being the person who had been at Phil's Delicatessen on Friday night and talked with her and her company. She said while he was at the Delicatessen RUBIN was alone but appeared to be very familiar with the store and with the personnel working in the store. She described him as appearing as though he were at home.

Miss RUBIN advised she could furnish no information concerning the telephone calls or attempted telephone calls made by RUBIN.

She said that after he finished the third telephone call he returned to the table to talk with one of the boys in the group about musicians who had played at the club. As he left the table he turned to the front page of the paper which was covered with news and photographs concerning the shooting of President KENNEDY and made the remark, "Isn't that a horrible thing." Miss RUBIN advised that on Sunday when the news concerning the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was broadcast on television she immediately recognized the photograph of JACOB RUBIN as being the person who had been at Phil's Delicatessen on Friday night and talked with her and her company. She said while he was at the Delicatessen RUBIN was alone but appeared to be very familiar with the store and with the personnel working in the store. She described him as appearing as though he were at home.

Miss RUBIN advised she could furnish no information concerning the telephone calls or attempted telephone calls made by RUBIN.

She said that after he finished the third telephone call he returned to the table to talk with one of the boys in the group about musicians who had played at the club. As he left the table he turned to the front page of the paper which was covered with news and photographs concerning the shooting of President KENNEDY and made the remark, "Isn't that a horrible thing." Miss RUBIN advised that on Sunday when the news concerning the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was broadcast on television she immediately recognized the photograph of JACOB RUBIN as being the person who had been at Phil's Delicatessen on Friday night and talked with her and her company. She said while he was at the Delicatessen RUBIN was alone but appeared to be very familiar with the store and with the personnel working in the store. She described him as appearing as though he were at home.

She said that after he finished the third telephone call he returned to the table to talk with one of the boys in the group about musicians who had played at the club. As he left the table he turned to the front page of the paper which was covered with news and photographs concerning the shooting of President KENNEDY and made the remark, "Isn't that a horrible thing." Miss RUBIN advised that on Sunday when the news concerning the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was broadcast on television she immediately recognized the photograph of JACOB RUBIN as being the person who had been at Phil's Delicatessen on Friday night and talked with her and her company. She said while he was at the Delicatessen RUBIN was alone but appeared to be very familiar with the store and with the personnel working in the store. She described him as appearing as though he were at home.
Mr. J. S. Cum
Chief of Police

Sirs:

You will find attached a summary and individual reports of investigations made by the unit you appointed on November 29, 1963, to investigate the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald in the basement of the City Hall.

These reports are supplemental to the original report already transmitted and concern investigations not directly connected with the shooting.

Respectfully,

O. A. Jones
Captain of Police

December 24, 1963

COMMISSION EXHIBIT NO. 2249