Mr. BOUBE advised that he was not too well acquainted with OSWALD, repeating that he met him through his wife. According to BOUHE, OSWALD frequently beat his wife, MARINA, and he recalled that on one occasion when he and some other members of the Russian colony had visited the OSWALD residence they had found it practically devoid of furniture, with the young child sleeping on the floor. Accordingly, he and other members of the group felt sorry for the OSWALD family and, between them, secured some child's furniture and clothing, among other things, for the family. Even while they were making this material available to the OSWALD family, he said that OSWALD was extremely ungrateful, stating that his family did not need such items even though it was very obvious that they did.

Mr. BOUBE advised that to his knowledge OSWALD never had any money of consequence except on those occasions immediately after he had cashed his weekly pay check.

Mr. BOUBE was asked if he was aware of any relationship whatsoever between LEE HARVEY OSWALD and JACK RUBY. Mr. BOUBE stated that he met the OSWALD family approximately a year and a half ago through OSWALD's wife. He pointed out that he had made it a point of meeting OSWALD since he had become aware that she was from his own home town in Russia. In this connection, he stated that he had left Russia in 1924 and has been residing in the United States since that time.

Mr. BOUBE was emphatic in stating that he had never heard the name JACK RUBY until the paper following the shooting of OSWALD by JACK RUBY. He said that neither LEE HARVEY OSWALD nor his wife, MARINA, had ever mentioned JACK RUBY in his presence. He likewise stated that in his contacts with the Russian colony in Texas, he had never heard the name of JACK RUBY mentioned.

It was pointed out to Mr. BOUBE that JACK RUBY had resided in the area of the 4700 block on Homer Street. BOUHE pointed out that all residences on the Homer Street in the 4700 block are of the apartment building type. He said that the apartment which he occupies rents for $75.00 a month, whereas the apartments at 4749 rent for $200.00 a month. He said he has never been in contact with individuals residing in the apartments across the street from the apartment in which he resides.

Mr. BOUBE advised that to his knowledge OSWALD had never resided on Homer Street or anywhere in the area of the 4700 block of Homer to his knowledge. He pointed out that when he first met OSWALD, he was residing at 2703 Mercedes in Fort Worth, Texas. When OSWALD first came to Dallas he resided at the YMCA for a couple of weeks. Following his residence at the YMCA, he said OSWALD secured a room in the Oak Cliff area of Dallas, but he could not recall this address nor did he have a record of it in his papers. At this point, Mr. BOUBE produced a card on which he kept addresses, and this card bore the notation dated November 1, 1963, 602 Elsbeth, Oak Cliff, for OSWALD and a notation dated June 1, 1963, reflecting an address of 4907 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana (Mr. BOUBE said he received this information second hand).

Mr. BOUBE advised that he was not too well acquainted with OSWALD, repeating that he met him through his wife. According to BOUHE, OSWALD frequently beat his wife, MARINA, and he recalled that on one occasion when he and some other members of the Russian colony had visited the OSWALD residence they had found it practically devoid of furniture, with the young child sleeping on the floor. Accordingly, he and other members of the group felt sorry for the OSWALD family and, between them, secured some child's furniture and clothing, along with milk and other groceries for the family. Even while they were making this material available to the OSWALD family, he said that OSWALD was extremely ungrateful, stating that his family did not need such items even though it was very obvious that they did.

Mr. BOUBE advised that to his knowledge OSWALD never had any money of consequence except on those occasions immediately after he had cashed his weekly pay check.
