

On November 22, 1963, when Lee Harvey Oswald came to his room at 1026 N. Beckley, and put on a zipper jacket, and left the clothes I saw him standing at the bus stop just across the sidewalk and Driveway to the right side of the house. I was standing by the television in front of it adjusting it when I heard a car horn blow and I leaned over to the left and looked through the window ~~straight~~ toward the television and I could see the man who I first knew as A. H. Lee and later learned was Oswald standing at the bus stop.

I then went back to the TV and did not see him again. I was about two feet from the window when I saw him. The T.V. was in the front room in sight corner on front of house address the public at 8:30 a.m. At that time there was a considerable gathering. It had been raining and most of the people were in raincoats and carried umbrellas.

Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. O'Brien came into my room and also viewed the area from my window.

At 8:30 a.m. the day was overcast, but the rain had stopped. President Kennedy proceeded to the platform and addressed the very enthusiastic crowd. He then returned to the hotel and had breakfast during which he also made an address which was televised. Following this, he left by motorcade for the airport. The crowds along the road were very enthusiastic.

On arrival in Dallas, Texas there was a long motorcade. Mrs. Lincoln, the President's Secretary, and I were in what Mr. Behn called the VIP car, which followed
